Canada Has Made Tremendous Strides

OTTAWA—The approaching session of Parliament calls attention to the tremendous changes that have occurred on Parliament Hill since the beginning of the present century. With in the short space of 28 years Canada has forged to the front as one of the world's leading nations, with a foreign trade of two and a half billion dollars this year, as compared with less than $100,000,000 at the beginning of the century.

The only member of the House of Commons who was here for the session of 1900 and has been in the House continuously since is Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux, the Speaker, who has sat for Genu since 1898. In 1900 Richard H. Bennett was still studying law in New Brunswick, little thinking that one day he would be leader of his Majesty's Loyal Opposition at Ottawa. W. Mackenzie King had graduated from the University of Toronto a few years before and was just completing a post graduate course at Harvard University following which he entered the public service at Ottawa in 1900 as Deputy Minister of Labor and editor of The Labor Gazette.

No Progressive or Women Members There were no Progressives in those days; the women did not even have vote, let alone a representative in Parliament; Canada had only one transcontinental railway, there were only seven provinces (Alberta and Saskatchewan being formed five years later), and the population of the Dominion was slightly more than five millions. The Government leader at the time was Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who had been in the saddle since 1896, while Sir Charles Tupper led the Opposition. Among the members of the Commons were several who are still at Ottawa. Frank Oliver then sat for Alberta; John Dowsley Reid, now for the Senate, represented Grenville South, and R. L. Borden sat for Halifax. The latter became leader of the Conservative Party some time later.

Heartbourne was in the House representing the present constituency of Lethbridge, and he resigned over Canada's participation in the Boer War. He probably would do the same again.

Laurier and Fielding
Laurier sat for his old constituency of Quebec East, which remained faithful to him to the last, and W. S. Fielding, who is still in Ottawa, was Minister of Finance, representing Quebec and Shelburne. The late John Ross Robertson sat for Toronto East, while Hewitt Bostock, now Speaker of the Senate, and George Billet Poirer, now also in the Red Chamber, were members for Yale and Carleton, and York N.B. respectively.

Grain Market Looks Encouraging

CHICAGO—Demand in grains are getting the fidgets again—Technically they are probably right; but it is like sending a boy to a feast who has a stomachache.

A new line of patter is being peddled around the new Board of Trade—something to the effect that, while wheat is in a weak position and the visible piling up, that the "world" will not permit of any further decline from these levels.

There is something of truth in the latest size-up of wheat prices—and a new revision to the old theory that with Europe owing us billions of dollars that a return to pre-war prices for international commodities is impossible. The "world" in this case means Europe and its debtor nations, which cannot resist themselves to paying war debts contracted on dollars that had a 45-cent purchasing value with money that has resumed its normal standard of value.

Europe is still in an awful mess from the war debts and it is a problem that will have to be worked out by the canny financiers of England and France.

It is perfectly obvious that there is an overextended short interest in wheat and corn. Bulls have waited patiently for some months and bears have had the best of it. The winter crop scare in wheat would subject shorts to a terrific raising and there are other uncertainties regarding the trend of prices that has started the short faction to worrying.

Crop failures, however, are the very worst factors that the trade and business in general have to deal with. Normal production means normal prices—and the trade had better get to a realization that the war ended ten years ago.

The biggest thing in the trade is being completely overlooked—that is that recent statistics show that the bread eating population of the world has increased about 150 per cent in the last hundred years, due to medical and surgical advances which prolong human life and increases the birth rate.

Theories are interesting but it takes facts to make markets, and looks like the short side is the wrong side, at least for some time.

Exports of corn are increasing and the grain is in particularly healthy condition. May corn may dip five cents, but under nasty oats a bushel is the best speculative opportunity the grain market offers.

Local Jottings

Alf Carlson has been confined to barracks for a few days; he is old enough to know better, but insists on experimenting with the popular mail.

Mayor Shrimpton, last Vice-President of the Union of Alberta Manufacturers, attended a meeting of the Executive of the Union yesterday in Calgary, presided over by Mayor Osborne.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Garrett, of Strathmore, are being congratulated on the birth of a daughter on January 2nd, at Mrs. McKenzie's hospital.

Allister and Annie McGregor are on the hospital list, Annie being afflicted with an ordinary attack of the measles, but Allister was much more peculiar, and selected pneumonia. Happily, each of them are now rapidly recovering.

John Garrett is among the latest to decide upon a test of the measles problem, but his friends will be pleased to learn that she is a very, very patient, and getting along towards convalescence.

Word has been received from the Canadian Forestry Association that Teddy Schulte has won first prize in the province of Alberta for his composition on one of eight topics placed for competition under the auspices of Forest and Outdoors. The competition is open to all pupils in each province attending public and separate schools. Congratulations are thus extended to Teddy on his notable achievement.

Teddy's parents and to Mr. Ian McKenzie, of the teaching staff, to whom much credit is coming, owing to the pains he took to interest Teddy in the work. Nice work, Ian, go get another prospect for the next contest.

Freddy Treay is among the latest victims of the measles epidemic, but is making a fine recovery.

H. S. Dougan, of Nightingale, was in town on Tuesday, and announced that he had secured the agency for the famous Colquhoun implements and the Alfa Chalmers engine. He has secured the services of Alf Carlson to be local manager for Strathmore.

The District Oratorical Contest will be held in the early part of February. Among the contestants will be Miss Bertha Giles, of Carleton, and John Garrett, of Strathmore. Contestants for the Schute Cup should come in from all the schools, even the hostess contestant is really a winner providing opportunity for experience which will be a lifelong asset to each contestant.

This is an important contest for David McKay, Bob Hunter and Earl Gillespie among the male teachers to try and compete with the lady teachers of the Strathmore School Fair District.

Fred Cooke, organizing secretary of the Navy League of Alberta, who has been in Strathmore collecting subscriptions to Canada's national magazine of yachting and shipping, and donations to the Navy League, wishes to thank the citizens for their assistance. The Navy League of Canada assists the widows and orphans of the men of the merchant marine and their dependents. The League also supports the sailors' homes and institutions, etc. in all the larger Canadian ports from coast to coast, and looks after the welfare of the seamen while they are ashore. In addition to this, the League trains young men and boys, helping to make better Canadian citizens of them.

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal holds a record for subscribers renewing voluntarily and continuously year after year. After all it is not surprising when one considers the quality and quality first the readers are given each week and at a price ridiculously low—$1 a year, or three years for $2.

The merchants of Strathmore are surely presenting the merits of their January bargains to the people. Watch the advertisements and poster announcements, and stock up with the bargains being offered.

E. Corbett, of Kithurst, was busy taking in the points of interest in Calgary on Wednesday, and expressing himself as being very much interested in the 1929 School Fair, Kithurst School Fair and Bro. Corbett are one and the same thing the year round.

"Pip" Giroux is making the native Californians sit up and take notice of his playing with Oakland, on which team he has developed into being the best scorer on the team.

Mr. and Mrs. Nels White are receiving the sympathy of the community in the loss of their baby girl, Mrs. White is seriously ill in the hospital in Calgary, and her many friends are hoping for an early recovery. Rev. J. N. Wilkinson conducted the funeral services at the Chase Funeral Home last Wednesday, and the interment took place at Strathmore Cemetery.

Ex-Mayor Frank Butler was in town on Wednesday.

Mr. Fraser, of the Calgary Power Co. was in town on Tuesday on his way to Glenhead and Chum.

Teeter Giroux and Tommy Westwick have been released by the Los Angeles team. The management wanted these boys to work in the oil plant as well as play hockey, but as "Teeter" claims his specialty is "wood chopping", he refused.

The local hockey club had a friendly game with the Calgary Buffalos on Wednesday night, and were defeated in a real fast game, score 5 to 4. The Strathmore team was as follows: Oiler, Giroux, H. Gray, R. Crelin, G. Moore, E. Colman, W. Giroux, Hector McGregor and Mike Moran. Jack Crelin scored two goals, W. Giroux one and E. Crelin one. Calgary team, Jeffries, Scott, Orr, Pogorski, J. Walls, R. Walls, W. Orr and Elliott. Pogorski scored two goals, Woods two and R. Walls one.

Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Ridley and two sons have been quite ill for several days, but are now rapidly convalescing, which is good news to their many friends, and the members of the Curling Club are anxiously awaiting E. N.'s early return to the game.

Jim Gunn has written from Scotland to his side partner, W. S. Pater, and about three-quarters of the letter was instructions and suggestions, how to put over the Canadian Legion New Year's Eve Dance bigger and better than ever. No wonder the Legion Dances are such a success when even the absent members come to town to plan.

MARRIAGE GONE
OUT OF STYLE SAYS
CHICAGO PROFESSOR

CHICAGO—Marriage, like the petticoat, has gone out of style, Professor William L. Bailey, of Northwestern University, said today in explaining cupid's latest in Chicago in 1928.

"The reason marriages were fewer in Cook county in 1928 than in any year since 1922 is because there are more companionate marriages now than mere persons care to admit," Professor Bailey said.

"With religion and morals changing as rapidly as the institution of marriage, a complete reorganization of social life is inevitable," he said. "The religious and economists blamed the dearth of wedding bells on the high cost of living, mobility of modern life and the tendency of young people to delay marriage, until late in life."

Comstock-Clark Wedding At Rosebud

At high noon on January 1st, the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Clark was the scene of a pretty wedding, when their eldest daughter, Helen Margaret, R.N., was united in marriage to Lester W. Comstock.

Wearing a handsome gown of beigeorgette and old lace over pink, and carrying a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and fern, the bride entered the room on the arm of her father, who gave her away in marriage, while Miss Thelen, Garriott, R.N., a fellow graduate of the General Hospital, Calgary, played the wedding march from Lohengrin.

Miss Rosamond L. Clark, a sister of the bride, acted as maid of honor, wearing a beautiful bouquet of white and mauve chrysanthemums, was maid of honor. The bridegroom was supported by Francis C. Clark, brother of the bride, and the ceremony was conducted by Rev. Percy Halstead M.A., D.D., of Cochrane.

The groom's previous betrothal to the bride was a beautiful bar pin set with a diamond; to the bridesmaid a beautiful bar pin set with an amethyst, and to the best man a pearl stick pin.

After the register had been signed, about thirty guests enjoyed the wedding dinner, the table centerpiece being a handsome three-tier wedding cake, made by Mrs. Floyd Clark. Mr. and Mrs. Comstock left that evening on a trip to the Western States, where they will visit several relatives before going to California. They will be at home at U.S. Ranch, Rosebud, after April 1st.

The Settlers Canada Will Give Welcome

The following is from a speech in Glasgow by Sir Henry Thornton: There seems to be a curious notion abroad in England that Canada does not want British settlers. Nothing could be more ridiculous, nothing could be more absurd. Canada prefers its immigrants of her own tongue and her own blood whose traditions she has valued for centuries. We welcome the British settler, and the Canadian government, the Canadian National railways, the Canadian Pacific mill ways and other enterprises are putting forth every effort to bring to Canada the proper kind of British settlers; but Canada is no place for those who are not willing to work and work hard. Indeed, the immigrant who is not willing to work hard is no use in any country abroad and not much use at home.

We only ask that those who come to Canada shall, first, be sound in body and mind. Secondly, that they shall come to Canada under such conditions as will preclude the possibility of their becoming public charges. In other words, we only want settlers in Canada who can become self-supporting. Any other policy would be ridiculous. Thirdly, we only want in Canada settlers who are prepared to live under our laws and under our scheme of society and accommodate themselves to our life in the Dominion.

We want no disturbers of the peace, and if there is any rousing of the "slaves" to be done we will do it ourselves. It means we don't want Bolshevists, nor Communists, and won't have them.

With such conditions we welcome all our British cousins who will come to us, and I venture to say that those who will come prepared to make those sacrifices which every individual must make if he is going to succeed in any occupation—if they are willing to put their backs into it and do those things which are essential to success in any vocation, they will find in Canada not only a comfortable and agreeable life, but quite likely fortunes if they have the brains and capacity to acquire them, because the opportunities are there. It is simply a question whether those who come to Canada are willing to put forth that effort which brings reward. The reward will be proportionate to their ability and the character of their efforts.

CHARLIS SELLS FOR PRICE OF $100,000

NEW YORK—Charliss, a winner of the rich Kentucky stakes has been sold to B. T. Jones of the Aubrey farm by W. T. Anderson for $100,000.

Charliss is one of the true blue of the thoroughbred world. He is a son of the great English horse Phalaris. Charliss was a fortune for Anderson when he captured the Coddish handicap. The purse approximated $100,000 and in addition Anderson backed his entry heavily at odds of 40, 20 and 10.

NEW HOCKEY MANAGER

Billy Gray has been elected manager of the Strathmore hockey team, and Gene Giroux captain.

gave her away in marriage, while Miss Thelen, Garriott, R.N., a fellow graduate of the General Hospital, Calgary, played the wedding march from Lohengrin.

ROSEBUD

Mrs. A. Grog has been a victim of the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Campbell entertained a number of friends New Year's night.

Little Vera Buzzard sustained a bad burn recently by falling against the stove.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hymas have returned from Calgary, where they spent the holidays.

Mrs. Charles Simpson and infant son have returned from Calgary.

Men's Styles Are Getting Scanty

PARIS—If the present trend of masculine fashion, as indicated by the recent Parisian show of models continues, there is a strong probability that men soon will be as scantily attired as the modern fair sex.

The movement was started by a Parisian writer, Maurice de Waleffe, who opened a campaign in favor of de-feminized knee breeches, bawls and all, with light-fitting silk stockings and the daintiest of patent leather slippers.

As far as the "breeches" are concerned, the proposed style now consists of something akin to the ordinary athletic underwear.

With the new costume must be included a tight-fitting jacket of the type that women used to wear in the latter part of the Victorian era.

But for evening dress, there is another story to be told. If the style makers have their way the collar is to disappear. Comfort will be the keynote, and the softest silk shirts will be worn, with a "V" at the throat, and no collar attached.

STILL THE LAW

A fairly powerful man is suing warning to the ladies, by reprinting a law which was passed in 1770 and has never been repealed: "Anyone who entices into marriage a male subject by means of rouse or scent or artificial tooth or false hair, shoes with high heels, crinolines, or false hips, shall be prosecuted for fraud and the marriage declared null and void." John Vermont had better watch his step.

DIED IN FLORIDA

Tex Richard, the New York boxing promoter, died this week in Florida. He was a very close personal friend of H. L. Stephens, of Calgary, in the days of the Klondike boom, and also in a town at the Nevada gold fields.

SPORT NOTES

DEMPEY'S DETROIT TRACK

DETROIT, Mich.—Quite a furor was created here today when it became known that Jack Dempsey, former heavyweight boxing champion of the world, had purchased ground near the outskirts of the city and contemplated building a race track. The negotiations, it is understood, were made through the offices of Floyd Fitzsimmons, close personal friend of Dempsey and who is also interested in numerous other ventures with the Manassas leader. Sonny Jim Coffroth, Gene Normale and Baron Long are mentioned in connection with the racing venture.

Investigation among those who, apparently are in a position to know, elicits the fact that the "higher up" expect to pass a racing measure at the next meeting of the legislature. As a matter of fact, those interested believe they now have sufficient votes in their vest pockets to insure the passage embodying practically the same features as the Lager bill of Illinois, which legalizes the use of "rotated" methods of handling wagers. In this respect, however, it is related that the Michigan measure will insist upon the installation of the "Tote", or Australian method of protecting the public from unscrupulous racing associations or their employees.

THE CHICAGO WHITE SOX

Blackburn lines up his outfit for the kickoff with Shires at first, Hunsfield at second, Cissat at short and Captain Kamm at third. The most serious looking candidate, next to Hunsfield, for the second sack job is Johnny Kerr, the former shift skip of the Calgary Brooks, under the management of "Wild Bill" Rogers, and drafted from the Hollywood club of the Coast League in attendance of Toronto meeting, but there is some fear that while he may be good enough on defense, he will not hit sufficiently. Blackburn's outfit, of course, is problematical.

LARGEST ATHLETIC ARENA

CHICAGO—The new dance hall promoter, who once thought he was paying a lot of money when he gave $15 nightly rent for a dance floor in Milwaukee avenue, to the builder of the world's largest athletic arena at a cost of $3,000,000 is the jump made by Paddy Harmon. Backed by some of the leading financial figures of Chicago, he is erecting on the near West Side an arena that will shade the palatial gardens at New York and Boston.

How did he do it? Because he was a man of his word. Paddy Harmon's promise has been as good as a long around Chicago for many years. He drew many a laugh when he proposed the building of the present arena, he drew so many before him had dreamed similar dreams and nothing came of them. But there were men with plenty of financial resources who knew Harmon. As a result, they were willing to back him and late in February Chicago is going to have an arena long has needed.

The building will measure 200 by 266 feet. For boxing shows there will be accommodations for 30,000 spectators and for 18,000 on bicycle races and similar exhibitions where the entire ground space must be set aside for the participants. The main floor, under which there will be no excavating, will measure 150 by 250 feet, and the entire surface can be frozen for hockey or skating in four hours and de-frosted in one hour. Rays to the extent of 40,000 candle power will be thrown over the ring and a special ventilating fan will attach to these lights to draw off the heat.

With such unlimited accommodations, Harmon is considering a scale of prices for fight tickets ranging from 50 cents to $2 that will make most of the other promoters hump to meet. While the arena may be boosted for championship bouts he expects to put the admission far below that which has prevailed. He figures that more fans will be attracted and that the profits will be as great, if not greater.

Fight cards however, form only a small part of Harmon's plans. He expects to book every form of athletic exhibition and conventions there, putting in some kind of a show 365 days of the year. To prove this, he exhibits a list of bookings, showing he already has scheduled an event for each night from June 3 from the time of opening. A six-day bicycle race is to open the arena, followed by a championship fight, then hockey, soccer, skating, track meets and conventions.

I Saw Last Week

FRED ANDERSON giving a heap of directions at the Curling Club. CHARLIE CHASE admitting his new Round Oak furnace and pronouncing Jim Moran's work in installing some as perfect; a good furnace a good much, and an extra good boss, makes a trio hard to beat. HECTOR MORRISON at his old tricks of meeting the trains just before school opened, carrying on the secretarial work both within and without the office. PRINCIPAL GROWTHIER making preliminary arrangements for the oratorical contest for the district championship. GEORGE H. JONES doing some fast foot work in order to get away in time to see the big boxing bout in Calgary on New Year's Day. T. M. WEARS "sitting pretty" waiting and watching for the visit of Auditor Coe, and hoping that he may find that "cent" that became astray about two years ago. JIM MOHAN explaining to Alex Gray what happened to Basil Dalnes in the first round at Calgary, and also that they failed him in regard to Sid Lusk's decision in favor of Mel Cowie. H. N. GARDNER enjoying the last week of 1928, with nothing to do but count his work for the year. HENRY J. WILKINSON looking up open dates to hold an annual meeting. TOWN COUNCILMANS having a holiday—no regular meeting until January 15th. FRANK SEALES figuring out how to give proper attention to the curling game and carry on his barber business. JENNY GIBSON travelling to Calgary to see the boxing matches, and back to Arrowwood to play hockey on New Year's Day. MARSHALL ANDERSON hunting for an excuse for not going to Gleichen on New Year's, finally landing the blame on Tom Glendinning. "TRIP" SCHULTZ looking very proud when "Teddy" was notified that he had written the prize essay for an Ottawa magazine.

CHOICE

The Lord, He says to me, "Sango! You gotta go, you gotta go. Instead I've gonna make you something dead. Sambo, what would you like to see? When you have given your life to me?" I said unto the Lord, I said, "If y'ow gonna make me something dead."

Rather than anything else, I'd choose To be a bride, and have my nose On one bank of a riverwide, My toes upon the other side.

"Across my back they'd come and go— Friend and enemy, fast and slow, Man and beast, wagon and car, Jogging along from near and far, While idly, idly, unheeding me, The waters flow on to the sea. "If I were a bride, mo' blessed Lord, I'd give you service, 'pon my word: Helping my fellow man in style, Philosophizing all the while, Feeling more powerful than a king, Yet never doing a deegone thing."

—Vivian Carter, in the Rotarian

LOYAL, HAPPY CANADA

A reader writes to The Globe from London, England: Miss Marie Blanche, who has just completed a successful Canadian tour, writes in the December issue of the Moonraker Magazine: "It would do some of our pessimists good to tour Canada as I have just done."

"On all sides one hears and sees abundant evidence that loyalty is the paramount feeling in this wonderful Dominion. I have seen more Union Jacks flying in Toronto and Montreal in a week than one would see in England in a year. We, at home, don't make nearly enough use of Canada. They're British to the backbone."

"But it isn't only loyalty to the Mother Country—loyalty to the flag. The amazing prosperity of Canada is due to the loyalty that the Canadians have for one another—the honesty and faithfulness of their dealings, and the great bond of sympathy and comradeship that is aroused by any issue that affects the furtherance of Canadian interests."

"Those who think of Canada as just a land of vast open spaces, in which life is very primitive, would be astonished at the 'up-to-dateness' of it all. Pretty girls abound. Cars and highways and all the most modern improvements in building and sanitation are to be found even in the faraway farms and outposts; while the towns, with their wide streets of magnificent buildings display shop windows which would be a credit to the reputation of very Regent Street itself."

NOTED HERD OF CATTLE SOLD

ROTHESAY, Scotland—At a sale of a noted herd of vedgie and milk recorded Ayrshire cattle, held recently in Rothsay, the home of John Mackenzie, late of the Strathmore Standard, the highest price paid was 90 guineas ($470) given for Bruchap Pear VII, which was second in the milking trials and third in the butter tests at the London Dairy Show in 1926. She was easily the most outstanding animal in the sale. Her sister, Bruchap Pear X, was secured by the same buyer for 62 guineas ($325).

NEW WORLD'S RECORD

MELBOURNE—A new world's record in first class cricket for a last wicket partnership was established here by A. Kippax and H. Hooker, playing for New South Wales against Victoria in a Sheffield Shield match. The pair scored 307 runs. Kippax completed 260, not out, and H. Hooker 62.

HIGH PRODUCTION AT ANGUS

Here is shown one small corner of the Angus shops. Inset, a section of the great machine shop. Lower left, transportation while the shop and right, setting the wheels for a new 1100 locomotive. Canada's increasing agricultural, industrial and commercial prosperity is making more and greater demands upon transportation and the country's railways must always be a long way ahead of the times in order to keep up with them. That, in a town within a city, sixty-five hundred men with a monthly payroll little short of a million dollars will be engaged all winter building, equipping and repairing rolling stock for one Canadian Company reflects not only the immediate benefits of a record crop year, but the encouraging and inspiring confidence of its directors in the continued prosperity of the country. This is particularly true when one realizes that the Angus Shops of the Canadian Pacific employ these sixty-five hundred men and through them support, say, a community of at least twenty-thousand within the city of Montreal, is not engaged in the actual construction of its freight cars and locomotives, that the frames for the passenger equipment are purchased outside and that these shops alone do not handle the whole of the repair work of the system, there being a large number of shops in the West. The present volume of work and the probability of further increases are due to the orders for rolling stock that have been placed with various Canadian steel car construction companies. The steel frames are built at Hamilton and other points in Canada and are taken to Angus where the finishing is carried out. One hundred and six passenger cars, including sleepers, diners, first class coaches and other equipment will have to be handled shortly by the Angus shops, while at present the construction of 40 cabooses, 7 snow ploughs and 2 rail boats is going on. At present, also, eleven repaired passenger cars and 129 freight cars are being turned out daily, and every five-hours and forty-five minutes shop time, an overhauled and repaired "comotive" is returned to service. The Angus shops of the Canadian Pacific Railway, situated on the eastern outskirts of Montreal, are the largest diversified railway shops maintained by any railway on the continent. They cover 300 acres of ground and handle each year upwards of 25,000 railroad cars and 100,000 tons of material. The first two of the 3,190 type of locomotive, the largest in the British Empire, were built at Angus by the company's own employees and from its own design.

HEARD ON THE STREET

Husband: "Here's another bill, my dear. How can we prepare for a rainy day, if you are so extravagant?"
Wife: "Way, dear, that's for a new raincoat and umbrella."

"Tact," said the lecturer, "is essential to good entertaining. I once dined at a house where the hostess had no tact. Opposite me sat a modest, quiet man. Suddenly he turned as red as a lobster on hearing the hostess say to her husband: 'How is attentive you are, Charlie. You must look after Mr. Blank better. He's keeping himself to every word.'"

Jim Swanson made a trip to Calgary. He returned wearing a scarf pin set with at least four carats worth of radiances. The jewelry dazzled the bolles, and excited the envy of other men. Jean Kinnelst blushed as it was a real diamond.

"If it ain't," said Jim, "I was skunk out of half a dollar."

"My friend," said the parson to Mickey Torrance. "Don't you know that every drink a man takes shortens his life three days?"
"How do you know?" asked Mickey.
"Carefully compiled statistics indicate the truth of what I am saying. 'My gosh!' said Mickey, 'I've been dead for sixty years.'"

New Year's Morning
Here I lie upon the bed,
Throat so dry and throbbing head;
Blood aches and body sore—
The morning after the night before!
Can't eat nuttall—not so pep—
Lost my money, lost my rep;

Can't get up I feel so bad
Never! What a wonderful time I had!

Do! Let me bed before—
Even my darn old tongue is sore!
When I wetch I still taste
Gee. What a party it musta been.

Sophie Seger was injured recently while crossing the street. In questioning her after the accident, her lawyer asked:
"Just where did the automobile hit you?"
"Well," said Sophie, "if I'd been wearing a license plate and a tail light, they would have both been broken."

"Dear me," said the caller, "what is that terrible noise upstairs?"
"Oh, that's nothing," said little Willie. "That's just my dragging my pants across the floor."
"But that shouldn't make such a racket," the caller protested.
"Oh, I don't know," said little Willie. "Pa is wearing the pants."

Jack had been informed by his father that he had been spending twice as much money at college as he was home.

"Son," he remarked, "I know you're spending it on whiskey and women. I don't mind you fooling with such a racket, but you can't do both. You've got to cut one of them out completely."
"All right, dad. Which one would you advise cutting out?"
"The old man thought in silence for a moment and then he answered:
"Son, you can drink all the whiskey you want when you're old."

Caesy Neering on Xmas Eve stopped and saw the reflection of the moon in the water of the lake.
"What's that?" he asked Bill Samuels.

THE SAYINGS AND DOINGS OF MANY PUBLIC MEN

Almon B. Houghton: "Rich Great Britain and America turn instinctively and sternly from a method of settling disputes which is so costly, so dangerous as war."

Prof. Thomas N. Carver: "Don't encourage anyone to think that it is either smart or clever, courageous or honorable, to outwit your Government."

Calvin Coolidge: "Governments are coming to see that it is by no means in derogation of their dignity to submit their differences with each other to an impartial tribunal."

Rev. S. Parkes Cadman: "The nation which violates the Peace Pact will stand before the world as guilty of the most serious offense against the entire society of nations."

Boy L. Smith: "Every man is partly responsible for the good name of every organization he belongs to."

E. W. Beatty: "Man's humanity to man is still civilization's greatest asset."

Sir Austin Chamberlain: "Without giving you the impressions which I gained of Canada. First and foremost to me there stands out the distinctive character of Canadian national life. It would have been surprising, in spite of the United States' distinctive history and great tradition and taking into consideration the tremendous industrial development of that great country, if the United States had imposed their civilization upon their people of view upon Canada, but I find a national spirit bred of your own traditions, inspired by your own history and encouraged by the boundless future that lies before you which is outstandingly your own as is the

"That's the moon, Casey," replied Happy Bill.
"Well, how the dickens did I get up here?" asked Casey.

"I bought a new car, and traded in my player piano as first payment."
"I didn't know they accepted player pianos as payment on new cars."
"They don't usually, but the salesman is a neighbor of mine."

Inquiring Elder: "And did you have a good time at the party?"
Bobby: "Not so good. I said 'no' when they asked me to have some more ice cream—and they never asked me again."

Best Friend: "One license is hardly sufficient to get married with these days; you really need three."
Bachelor: "Two?"
Friend: "Yes, marriage and automobile."

Gene Giroux (to prospective buyer): "Here's a touring car; used once; good tires; price $95; won't last long."
"If I was to lend her everything she wanted to borrow I'd have to 'old me next party in or 'out'!"

The story is told that a certain young man was recently speeding merrily along the road when he caught up with a party of children on their way to school. He asked them if they cared to ride, and for an answer, they piled into his Ford until it was so completely filled that one little girl had to sit on the driver's lap. She was a plump little thing, and the driver cuddled her close to keep her away from the steering wheel.

"Do you like school?" he asked her.
"Yes, sir," she replied.
"Do you go every day?"
"I haven't missed a day this year," the little girl replied.
"Good little girl," said the driver, kissing her soft cheek.
"Do you like your teacher?"
"Yes, sir," said the girl; "I'm the teacher."

And the Ford very near went into the ditch.

Here's to the Garden of Eden, Which Adam was always a weed in;
Till Eve, by mistake, got bit by a snake,
Who on a ripe titbit was feeding.
Then a feline it seemed to possess her,
For clothing enough to dress her,
And ever since then—it has been up to us men.

To pay for her dresses, God bless her, to us men.
Hotel Porter (referring to a stranger): "You'll have a comfortable journey, sir."
Jim Gunn: "Verra sorry, but I've given me smut change to the chambermaid."

of spirit of England or Scotland.
"The second impression that I get is of the vigor and prosperity of the country and of the great development which awaits it as soon as you have the requisite capital, and that without which capital is useless, namely, the requisite population."

"I have not been able to follow very closely the activities of the British harvesters who came over, for I was out of season of things for so many months, but I have made it my business to ask questions of a good many people, and I have heard of numbers who are determined to stay here for good, and I am assured they are a type which will make good in Canada, and I can well believe it."

Lord Cusheund: "It is difficult to see how we can ever maintain good relations all around if friendliness with one nation is always assumed to be hostility to another."

Dr. L. H. Hough: "Regard every man in the world as a possible customer, and not as a possible foe."

William Lyon Phelps: "The surest road to failure is to do things mechanically."

Roy L. Smith: "You can buy a house but you must know yourself in it if it is ever to be a home."

Albert F. Gilmore: "It is not distance, but discord, which separates mortals."

Dr. F. J. Karm: "The souls that the man in the street sings are far better than they were."

Mrs. Hubert Barclay: "Nothing is ever heard in the newspapers of the millions of happy marriages."

Porter: "She told me you didn't give her anything."
Jim Gunn: "A' weel, if I didna give you bonnie lassie anything, what sort o' chance d'ye think you've got?"

The wife suggested to her husband that he pay back to her the dollar he had borrowed the week before.

"But," the husband protested indignantly, "I've already paid that dollar back to you twice! You can't expect me to do it again!"
"Oh, very well," the wife retorted with a contemptuous sniff, "never mind, since you are as mean as that."

She: "Did you know that the water has rotted away the post in front of our house?"
John Vermont: "Mercy goodness, and the toiletators put that stuff in their stomachs!"

Doctor (to patient who claims to be a nervous wreck): "What are your symptoms?"

Patient: "I jump when I hear a telephone; the doorman sends me mad hysterics. Any stranger coming to the house frightens me out of my life, and I'm afraid to pick up a newspaper. Do you know what's wrong with me?"

Doctor: "Yes. My wife drives a car, too!"

A youth was applying for a post as bookkeeper.

"Of course," said the manager, "you understand double-entry?"
"Oh, yes, sir," replied the youth.
"In my mind, the place they had plenty entry—some set of books for the boss, a second for the shareholders, and a third for the income-tax people."

An American went into a barber's shop in Glasgow, and while he was being shaved laid down the law about the general behindhandness of Scotland.

"You don't appreciate enough," he said. "You should stick to one branch of a thing and master it completely. To specialize is the only way to get on."

The barber said nothing, but finished his lathering and sat down to read. The American turned round and said: "Now, then, get a rustic on. I'm waiting to be shaved."
"We only lather here," said the barber. "It's our specialty. If you want to be shaved, you'll have to go into the next street."

Two negro moonshiners were discussing the merits and strengths of their products.

"This here lickin' so strong," declared one, "dat when yo' drink it yo' can done smell de cornfield whar dat corn was grown."

"Humph! Nigger, dat ain't nothin'!" was the contemptuous comment. "Ah spelled a few drops of rash lickin' on my wife's penny patch, an' dem panies dun turned tuh tiger lilies, yeh sah."

A young bridegroom, after the wedding was over and the bride's father had gone to the club began to search among the wedding gifts.

"What are you looking for, dear?" asked the bride.

"That thousand-dollar cheque of your father's," he said; "I don't see it anywhere."

"Your papa is so absent-minded," said the bride. "He lit his cigar with it."

Negro caller at hospital: "I came to see mah fren' Joe Brown was gettin' along."

Nurse: "Why he's getting along fine; he's convalescing now."

Negro: "Well, I'll sit it down and tell till he's through."

The lady had lost her husband and had given instructions to the stone mason as to the wording on the tombstone, the ending to be "Rest in Peace."

In the meantime her late husband's will disclosed the fact that she had been somewhat shamefully treated.

She rushed around to the stone mason and told him to omit the words "Rest in Peace."

"Oh, well," said the lady, "and 'Till We Meet Again'."

DUNNING SEKS TO AVOID BRANCH

OTTAWA—With a first class battle in the end, regardless of which railway company backs the lines, I intend to follow the same policy in regard to the present branch line programme as I have in the past.

I am requesting the railway heads to get together with a view to avoiding needless waste. If a conflict in interest does arise it will have to be decided by parliament.

Mr. Dunning said that he had put the matter before E. W. Beatty, president of the Canadian Pacific railway, and that Mr. Beatty had agreed to meet Sir Henry Thornton and place all cards on the table.

Mr. Dunning will be advised of the outcome and will endeavor to keep the railways cooperating until as much of the controversial mileage as possible has been eliminated.

The details of the rival branch line programmes are not yet available and will not be announced until the conferences are concluded. It is now, however, that the proposals of the two railways will run to perhaps 2,600 miles of branch line, which will be the largest construction programme to be dealt with by parliament since before the war.

CLAIM OF VETERAN BEING INVESTIGATED

VANCOUVER—Although Mr. Justice Audette, in Exchequer Court, dismissed an action of John William Cooke to recover $5,225 for pay and allowance from the Department of Militia and Defence, the Minister of Justice, in accordance with his Lordship's suggestion, has appointed Colonel Order Judge Advocate, Ottawa, to investigate Cooke's claim. Without hearing any evidence, the Exchequer Court Judge, on the motion of the defendant, dismissed the action on the ground that a soldier has no right of action for his pay and allowance. Cooke now has an opportunity to prove the truth of his allegation that he was a prisoner of war in Germany during the period he was posted by the Canadian Army as a deserter and pay and allowance were stopped.

Do what you consider right whatever people think of it, despite its censure and praise.
—Pythagoras.

TALK ABOUT WHAT YOU REALLY WANT

What a mistake people make in talking about the things they don't want instead of the things they do want. For instance, nobody wants to be sick but nearly everybody, every day, talks about sickness. It's "how are you, Smith?" or "I hope you're keeping well, Mrs. Brown." Or, a "A lot of sickness about, isn't there?" And so it goes on, talk, talk, everlastingly, never-ending, talk about disease. One two average people start talking about their ailments, real or imaginary, there's no end to it, until one or both make up their minds to go home and be real sick.

Now, nobody wants to be sick, so why talk about it? Talk about what you want, not about what you don't want. You want health, don't you? Then talk about health, not about sickness. Be positive, not negative. See yourself as well and healthy and claim the natural condition of the body, health, for yourself and your friends, and you and they will get health. We get what we "speak the word" for. It's the same about poverty and prosperity. Yet notice how people will talk about house and home, bad, times hard, collections poor, employment scarce, and so on. The first question when two men meet is usually "How's business?" Why not take it for granted that business is good? Business, usually is good. You want to be prosperous, don't you? Well, talk prosperity; don't talk poverty.

Many a man plans for a prosperous business but acts as if his business is going into the receiver's hands. And if you are prosperous, talk as if you are prosperous, think prosperity, live it, see it coming to you, and it will come. You will get what you visualize as coming to you. If you expect to fail, you'll fail; but if you expect to succeed, you'll get there. But don't talk about failure if you don't want failure; talk about success, the thing you want, not the thing you don't want. The same about happiness; don't talk about misery and woe. If it's happiness you want, talk about happiness, look happy, expect happiness, give happiness and you'll get happiness. For the law is that we get what we give, only we get it back in better measure, "poured down running over." Talk about what you want, not about what you don't want.

THE PAST CANNOT EVER BE RECALLED

The London Times says: As time proceeds it becomes more valuable, only because it is more weighted with the moral opportunities it gives us. The past cannot be recalled. What we have done or left undone may remain, but we can in the short space before the light dies down turn our consciousness of failure to become an inspiration to persistent industry, and with the knowledge of our experience devote ourselves with faith renewed determination to endow our remaining span of life with such qualities as will repair and redeem the whole. The time may be short, but it is all ways sufficient for life's purpose. We treat it of time what we give it. If we treat it as but the means of gaining wealth, reputation, or pleasure, we shall obtain nothing more from it, though we may easily rack such less. Success in these things may lead to a sense of disillusion in consciousness that, after all, what we

ELWOOD

Mr. J. Drummond's family are quarantined with measles.

H. Hanson drove to Calgary last Friday to attend a meeting of the Bow River U.F.A. Board, and will go to Edmonton on Thursday to attend the U.F.A. convention.

Mrs. L. F. Pinkerton entertained friends from the Arrowwood District New Year's day.

There was so much illness in the district last week that only about half the usual attendance was at school. It is expected, however, that it will be up to normal this week.

The annual meeting of the school district was held last Saturday. Only the usual business was discussed. Mr. A. Blair was the visiting trustee. It was decided to drill a new well, there having been two attempted to secure good water. The meeting also raised the secretary's salary. The officers for 1920 are: J. Drummond, chairman; Harold Scheer, secretary-treasurer; and H. Hanson, trustee.

NAMAKA

Mrs. Bulmer, of Vancouver, is the guest of her daughter, Mrs. Waters, over the holiday season.

Mr. Paul Moller left town last week, and will spend the winter in Calgary.

The G.O.I.T. girls were the guests of their hostess, Mrs. Waters, at a party given in honor of Miss Adelle Spurgeon and Miss Ida Thomson, who were home from Calgary on their holiday.

Mr. Wheeler has been on the sick list the past week. We hope to see him around again soon.

Mr. Pottinger was called to Calgary Sunday, owing to the serious illness of his brother.

Mr. Harold Wooster left Sunday for Olds.

CARLELAND

The first of the New Year dances will be held on Friday, January 11th. Let everyone turn out and have a good time.

The annual meeting of the consolidated school will be held on Saturday, January 12th, at 2 p.m.

The second annual meeting of the community hall trustees will be held on January 15th, at 8 p.m. If every indication there will be several issues brought up.

Several of the local residents have been laid low the last week past with the flu epidemic. Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Field, Mr. and Mrs. Greenwood, Mrs. Langmuir, and several others, who are getting around again.

Monday seems to have been the local butchers convention at Glenora, it being attended by R. Haagzyne and Harry Dantz. Mrs. R. S. Haagzyne
